MEMORANDUM.

In the case of Imports the values given represent the values of commodities, landed in Bangkok. They do not include the amount of duty. In the case of Exports the values represent the cost of the goods, including all charges thereon up to the time of their delivery on board ship: they thus include the duty.

The quantities and value of both Imports and Exports have been given whenever possible. But in the case of Imports liable to an ad valorem duty the greatest difficulty has been experienced in obtaining quantities; even those given must be accepted with caution. More reliance may be placed on the values, which are subject to check at the hands of the Department's Officers. In the case of Exports, on the other hand, where the duty is leviable on quantities, the difficulty has been in obtaining proper values. Deductions can in such cases be more accurately drawn from a comparison of quantities. This is particularly so in the case of Rice. In the case of Teak the Department depends, both for quantities and values, on information supplied by the merchants concerned. The figures must be treated as approximations only.

Imports have been credited to their original countries of consignment whenever possible, but large quantities of goods have, of necessity, been credited to Singapore and Hong Kong for want of further information. In the same way many goods are shewn as exported to Singapore and Hong Kong which are obviously intended for transhipment, but the ultimate destination of which cannot be ascertained. There are also certain consignments of both Teak and Rice of which nothing further is known than that they are shipped to Europe, or the Azores, "For Orders."

Up to and including the year 1906 yearly returns prepared by this Office covered periods corresponding to the Christian years. The difficulties resulting from the change of period, to that of the Siamese year, have, in the case of all other comparative tables, been overcome. The labour of recompiling this table was thought, however, to be incommensurate with its value: and the figures for the Christian years prior to 1907 have therefore been retained,—a comparison between differing periods being, for the present, unavoidable.
